DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.

PREMIER DEFINES BRITISH NAVAL POLICY.

OUR SEA SECURITY.

ESSENTIAL TO REPLACE OBSOLETE CAPITAL SHIPS.

LONDON, July 21.

In the House of Commons, Captain W. Wedgewood Benn asked whether the contracts for four new capital ships would be suspended pending the Washington disarmament conference. Mr. Lloyd George replied that the British Government in replacing obsolete ships did not contemplate a building programme in reply to those of other powers. As a result of frank and candid discussion with the principal naval powers it might be possible to avoid anything in the nature of competitive building, but it would be a dereliction of duty on the part of the Admiralty to allow the efficiency, training and morale of the Navy to deteriorate from neglect and not provide it with the best material. "It is also imperative to avoid irrevocable loss of time and building facilities which might make it impossible to maintain our sea security if it threatened. These are reasons which make it essential that the Government proceed with its policy of replacing obsolete capital ships and this necessity is not affected by the possible success or failure of the Washington conference."

"LIFE AND DEATH TO AUSTRALIA."

LONDON, July 21.

Mr. W. M. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia, as the guest of the American Luncheon Club at the Savoy welcomed President Harding's invitation to the disarmament conference. He said that the question of the Pacific was one of life and death to Australia. She and America had common interests. The Washington conference could only succeed if agreement were reached regarding the Pacific. Britain also had overwhelmingly vital interests in the Pacific, and Australia stood shoulder to shoulder with Britain. Unless America and Japan ceased their naval rivalry, Britain would be compelled to build ships to maintain her position and interests in the Pacific.

It must not be forgotten that in order to settle the Pacific problem, the interests of Japan as well as their own must be considered, and unless a settlement satisfactory to Japan, America and Britain was effected there could be no hope of a successful Washington conference. Sir Joseph Ward said that New Zealand was with Australia in this matter.

RUSSIA WANTS A VOICE.

LONDON, July 22.

The Daily Telegraph learns that M. Chicherin has notified the powers resenting the fact that Soviet Russia has not been invited to the Pacific conference at Washington. Therefore any decisions will be regarded as null and void. He says that the prospect of disarmament would fill him with joy if only he could participate therein. Failing the Soviets' co-operation there would be no guarantee of peace in the Pacific. Her non-representation will add to the danger of future conflicts. The Telegraph describes the note as quizzical.

AMERICA AND THE FAR EAST.

WASHINGTON, July 22.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes again discussed the disarmament conference with Mr. Shidehara. It is believed that the conversations are the preliminary to formal explanations of America's attitude as regards the agenda of the conference on the position in the Pacific and Far East generally.

HOME CRICKET.

LONDON, July 21.

The weather was sunny, the wicket good. There were 16,000 spectators. Yorkshire made 126 runs. Holmes made 26 and Burton 31. Gregory took three wickets for 42 runs, and McDonald three for 31. The Australians made 136 for seven. Macartney made 33. The Australian batting was very cautious, scoring being difficult owing to the very keen fielding.

$3,000,000 EMBELLISHMENT CHARGE.

ILLINOIS STATE OFFICIALS INDICTED.

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, July 21.

Governor Small, Lieut. Governor Sterling and a banker named Vernon Curtis have been indicted on a charge of embellishing public funds amounting to $3,200,000. Small has issued a statement proclaiming his innocence and asserting that his enemies are trying to assassinate him politically.

AFGHAN ENVOY IN AMERICA.

CONFERENCES DO NOT IMPLY RECOGNITION.

WASHINGTON, July 21.

Mr. Hughes, Secretary of State, has received Mahomed V. Ali Khan, an Afghan envoy who is visiting America for a series of conferences with the State Department, but the Department does not construe the meeting as extending or forecasting American recognition of Afghanistan.

LONDON, July 22.

ALL HONGKONG DEFIED.

A YOUTH WHO REFUSED TO BE SEARCHED.

STRUGGLE WITH REVENUE OFFICERS.

Point blank refusal to allow himself to be searched for contraband led to the appearance at the City Police Court this morning of a Chinese youth charged before Magistrate Lindsey with having impeded a Chinese constable in the execution of his duty.

Evidence was given to the effect that the accused was on the Canton wharf last night when the constable stopped him in order to search his person for contraband. The accused refused point blank, and struggled with the constable. Sergeant Fallon was sent for, but in spite of the Sergeant's explanations, the accused announced impudently that he would not allow the constable or anyone else in Hongkong to search him. As he was very violent, Sergeant Fallon put the accused under arrest.

The Magistrate sentenced the man to four weeks' hard labour and four hours' stocks as a warning to others.

THE KWANGSI WAR.

KWEI YUEN CAPTURED.

NO MORE HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED.

Kwei Yuen was captured and Warlord Lu Yung-ting in a circular telegram has announced his resignation from the bogus government in Peking as "Inspector-General of Kwangsi and Kwangtung." Thus to-day's Canton Times under the scare heading "Complete collapse of Kwangsi military machine." The campaign started by the resigned Warlord with the intention of subduing Kwangtung, has come to a sudden and dramatic end, continues the Canton paper, and no more heavy fighting between the Kwangsi and Kwangtung troops is expected, except some perhaps guerrilla warfare with some of the defeated subordinates of the Warlord who have now fled with their troops to the interior and might give the Cantonese troops some trouble every now and then in looting and devastating villages and towns.

The capture of Kwei Yuen was comparatively much easier than the capture of the other cities, such as Shumchow, Pingnam, Teng Yuen. Before the Cantonese troops surrounded the city, the Kwangsi troops under Chen Ping-kwan and Wai Wing-chang had previously evacuated leaving the city without a strong defence. When the Cantonese opened fire flags of truce were seen flying over the city gates and a commission of business men came out to inform the Cantonese that the city was free of Kwangsi troops and to invite them to take possession of the city. This was immediately done with practically no bloodshed.

Firecrackers were set off by the population of Kwei Yuen to welcome the Cantonese troops, and it is reported that the display of firecrackers continued throughout the night till early the next morning.

In view of the occupation of Kwei Yuen which is so near the threshold of Nanning, Warlord Lu Yung-ting issued a circular telegram announcing his resignation and at the same time left Nanning in the charge of some of the unimportant military commanders. When this piece of good news reached Gen. Chen Chung-ming orders were given to move his military headquarters to Kwei Yuen so that operations could be directed more effectively against the remaining Kwangsi general.

Kwei Yuen is a very strategic city upon which the safety of Nanning, the capital of the province depends. Now that it has fallen into the hands of the Cantonese, military experts declare that the occupation of Nanning will be a very easy matter. In fact they declare that the fall of Kwei Yuen is equivalent to the fall of the military machine in Kwangsi.

THE SCIENCE OF PSYCHOLOGY.The solution of the problems of life and mind is assuming a prominence and making claims for recognition that were undreamt of last century. Psychology now demands a place among the natural sciences, professing definite aims and precise methods of observation, that entitle it to respect and deference. Its advocates urge that its deduction are to be accepted as entirely as are the evident and material results that follow from experiments in physical laboratories. The realm of inquiry covered by its activities is singularly wide; the proper construction to be placed on statistics and correlations
no more escapes its scrutiny than do the elaborate hypotheses put forward to explain the transient and elusive phenomena of psychical manifestations. The principles which govern the science of the soul are regarded as definite and rigorous as those of physiology, and there are not wanting those who grow impatient if the apparatus connecting the nervous system and the machinery controlling thought is doubted or questioned. It is possible that mental training and the acquisition of facts depend on the formation of brain paths or neurograms, deepened by repetition, and that increase of associations increases the number of these brain paths. Inasmuch as every mental exertion is accompanied by a transformation or dissipation of energy, some record of the operation would be manifested, but the signs as the mode of operation, entirely escape observation. There is a gap between physiological and psychological action which it is not possible to bridge, and the Rolandic or kiras-thetic area affords a field in which the imagination can run riot, as it assigns work to various forces. We cannot perceive these "sacs of intermediate level" or of "higher level" in the same sense that we perceive the motions of electrons in an atom.

MANILA TRADE.

AMERICAN SHIPPING.

GENERAL WOOD'S VIEWS.

Manila, July 4.—Strong measures to put American commerce on its feet and the transformation of Manila into a trade base, were urged by Major-General Leonard Wood in a recent address here before the American Chamber of Commerce.American shipping would have to be subsidized, he said, either through the sale of government vessels to private owners at a fraction of their original cost, or by leases to private operators on terms which would make the use of these vessels profitable.He added that America had indulged in too much "verbal massage" after the war as a solution of her shipping problem.General Wood further spoke as follows:—"Some 15 years ago Mr. Forbes and I were on a committee for the development of Philippine commerce, and we had dreams at that time of making Manila a great free port—a port which could compete successfully with any other in the Far East—for the distribution of American goods. There is no reason why that should not be done now, but before it can be "put over" we must have an intelligent and consistent foreign policy."We want better means of communication, not only throughout the Philippines, but across the Pacific.
We ought to have a direct cable.
Your cable rates are very high,
almost too high for business unless the business is very profitable. We also want well equipped lines of American steamers.A DERELICT FLEET.
"We built about 15,000,000 dead-weight tons of shipping during the war, at a cost of about $220 a ton, compared to $65 to $80 a ton, before the war in America and the United Kingdom. Our ships are now rusting in American harbours. At SanTEETHING TIME NEED NOT MEAN TEARS.When baby's teeth are coming through it is a time of worry to many mothers.
The little one's gums become swollen and tender, he is fussy, does not sleep
well, is troubled with constipation, colic or diarrhoea, and sometimes even convulsions—a real him.During this period nothing can equal the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They "stand a child's remedy. They regulate the bowels and stomach and make the teething so easy that the mother scarcely realizes baby is getting his teeth.Baby's Own Tablets are equally helpful and harmless to the youngest infant and the child of eight or more, curing constipation, indigestion, colic, diarrhoea, simply fever and expelling worms.Baby's Own Tablets are to be had from chemists, also post free at 50 cents
the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 99, Reservoir Road, Shanghai.

YOKOHAMA TRAGEDY.

MR. RONALD HILL'S DEATH.

FOREIGN COMMUNITY DEEPLY STIRRED.Yokohama, July 7.—The foreign community in Yokohama is deeply stirred over the murder of Mr.
Ronald Hill, who was stabbed by a burglar yesterday. Strong representations are being contemplated by the foreign Board of Trade and ex-service men to the authorities for more adequate police protection. Suspects are reported to have been arrested but the police are silent about the case.The funeral this evening was attended by practically the whole foreign community, who appeared very deeply moved. The body was carried by members of the British Ex-Servicemen's Organisation, of which the deceased was a member and a mass of flowers covered the coffin. The ceremonies were most impressive.Francisco there are 100 that have never been to sea. We must get them into service, which will have to come through a subsidy of some sort."One thing is evident here; the Philippine coastwise communications are wretched. A great many planters have come to see us on our provincial trips. They complain of the lack of means of communication. There has also been a reversion to a vicious practice of Spanish times; unless the planters sell to certain buyers, often they cannot get their products carried."I have already spoken about our loss of world trade when we had it (after the war) practically within grasp. On the other hand, England, with an empty treasury, went quietly to work to regain her foreign commerce. And she is doing it. So is Germany. When we come in contact with European countries—especially with the Central Powers—we are going to find this competition very sharp. It is to be a keen struggle; success can be attained only by organized effort. Of course the uncertainty of American tenure in the Philippines is tending somewhat to hold back development."But I believe that you out here in Manila are going to be the centre of one of the greatest trade areas in the world. You are right on the edge of one of the greatest trade empires of the world—China.
You people ought to get together and make Manila a great distributing

IN WAR CRIMINALS.

Desirable in our own interests should "keep our heads over those Leipzig trials of prisoners, and some of the more Home papers, whose lead brier ones out here are often to follow, have not been helping to do it. They have headlines that the German court's is on German war criminals, and, by plain implication, of justice. Apparently, journalists who take that line sentences with boiling oil in quite natural, but not reasonably expected from this, is quired the Germans to do by themselves in a like position. In the early days of the war we caught some submarine Winston Churchill had them to the ordinary prisons among else. In a very few weeks they were transferred to prisoners of war camps, in deference to a strong feeling in the Services that fighting men should not be punished for carrying out the orders of their superior officers. The Leipzig trials have been farcical, if at all, because they were trials of subordinates who had to do what they were told. The bigger criminals should have been first arraigned, the hochgeborenen schweinen who decided on policies of ruthlessness and frightfulness, and ordered their brutes to be extra brutal. So far as the headlines referred to are concerned, you should not swallow their suggestions that the German Court has decided unjustly. If it has erred towards injustice, the error has not been in favour of the prisoners, some of whom, legally speaking, may have been entitled to be discharged scot free. The main point to be observed is that the convictions themselves, however light the sentences accompanying them, are assets that we should not lightly throw away. Our own representatives at the trials—who were there to see fair play—do not share in the outburst of intense and passionate indignation that our newspapers have been prating of. They applaud the justice of the procedure of the court and applaud the character and conduct of its President. How should a grubby newspaperman in London, smelling of beer and onions, be more able to judge than selected men who were there and saw and heard all? It is advisable to remember also that these journalists are shrewdly aware how popular passion will incline, and that it pays them to lean with it and encourage it. It is possible that the officers of the China Mail would benefit were we to tear up what we have written, and to substitute a lot of easy vituperation against our late enemies. Happily the temptation is not too strong for us; we can afford to be honest. If someone retort that surely the London Times, the Harpersburg Press generally, can afford it better than we can, we merely reply that perhaps they do not want to be. We do. It is fair to mention here that the Times article reproduced in yesterday's Daily Press was not the only one that great paper published. It gave another by another correspondent who said there was no one in Court who did not recognize that the enquiry had done all that was humanly possible to elicit the truth, and he too warmly praised the presiding Judge, Sir Ernest Pollock, who was at the trial, and cannot decently be called a pro-German, said he was "satisfied that the British public could have the fullest confidence in it" (that Leipzig Court). Let us recall the trial of Dr. Jamieson. His trial and conviction were fair, his punishment was a farce. But we who wanted only justice were not indignant, because the law and the principle were vindicated. It was established for all time that what Jamieson did was wrong. The Boers were passionately indignant, because they wanted revenge as well as justice. That is the trouble with the people now angry with the Leipzig Judge. They wanted revenge. They could have got it, perhaps, by insisting on a "trial" by a British court, but how could such a "trial" have impressed the world, or taught it a moral lesson? The world would have said: "These injured folk have exacted vengeance. That's that." When a German Court convicts Germans, the world says: "Hello! So it is now admitted, all round, generally, that even in war certain things should not be done. People at war are not good moral judges, and people who retain war's passions after the war is over are not. They were convinced that poison gas was a crime (and it was) but they modified their talk when our own lot felt obliged to use it. There is nothing particularly disgraceful in getting angry with your country's enemies. Nothing natural is sinful, because God is responsible for nature. But it is immoral to pose as a reasonable judge when you are in a paddy. These journalists are clearly wilful sinners, because they cannot still be feeling enraged. When we think of some of the things those Germans did, we feel that it would be some satisfaction to see them suffering as they caused others to suffer. That's natural. To forgive your enemies is unnatural. To worship justice in the abstract is an acquired virtue, and to be false to your own ideal of it is sin. We prosecute each other for bigamy, because we believe bigamy wrong, but we would not (or should not) be angry with a Chinese judge or jury that let off lightly a Chinese with a plurality of wives, whom we had forced them to bring to trial. That is a fair analogy. We profess to know better than the Chinese the ethics of polygamy, but we cannot pretend to be better than the Leipzig Germans, so long as the Jamieson trial and similar cases (e.g. Amritsar) are on record. The main thing, let us repeat, is that these Leipzig trials have vindicated international justice, and helped to establish a certain ideal which we consider the best. If all the prisoners had been acquitted as innocent, we might reasonably have complained, for we should in that case have lost the moral triumph these convictions give, a triumph which, incidentally, our idiotic journalistic spokesmen have been throwing away. We have induced a high German court to pronounce that "frightfulness" is a wrong policy. Sir Hamar Greenwood has recently admitted in Parliament that in Ireland it is an unsuccessful policy. Almost we begin to fancy that civilization is showing signs of getting on.

When you fail to provide your family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough and Colic Remedy at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as a lower complaint is sure to be prevalent and it is too dangerous a remedy to be trifled with. A dose or two of this remedy will place the trouble, with its usual and perhaps more, a little, or at least a few days, for sale by all Chemists and Druggists.

Duff, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of the China Station, in succession to Captain Reginald G. H. Henderson, C.B. This appointment also carried with it that of Chief of Staff to the Commander-in-Chief. Captain James has served afloat since September, 1897, was promoted Lieutenant in 1902, commander in 1910, and captain in October, 1917, saw much service in the late war (mentioned in despatches, C.B.), and now vacates the command of the light cruiser "Curlew" on the China Station to take up that of the flagship. It may be recalled that Captain James is the original of Millais' famous oil painting "Bubbles"—the little cherub-looking chap with the blue eyes and curly hair, watching the bubble floating in the air. It is said that Captain James does not care to be reminded of the fact, but with the best of motives it is sure to recur, and we trust to receive absolution for mentioning it.

THEATRE ROYAL.

THE BETTER 'OLE.

AN ENJOYABLE PRODUCTION.

The honour born of that tragedy, the Great War, will apparently survive for many years yet. Maybe it is that with the events that have happened since the declaration of peace humour, in the minds of the present generation, will outlive the tragedy. Last night at the Theatre Royal the Bandman Opera Company presented one of the best known war comedies, The Better 'Ole, in which the characters are drawn from the creations of the famous cartoonist Bainsfather. Old Bill, Bert and Alf—their names will live for many a year yet. The story is not a particularly strong one. Fortunately it stimulates the memory, however, and enables a fuller enjoyment of the eccentricities of the three heroes. Briefly it relates the capture of a plan by Old Bill from an enemy spy, the defeating of the enemy plans, the bestowal of a decoration by a grateful ally, the return to the better 'Ole—which is, in the words of Alf, "A little boozie." The presentation of the three principal roles left nothing to be desired. Dan Mansfield had that of Old Bill. He showed us the old warrior of the famous moustache, a mixture of humour and perhaps a little silliness. A delightful touch was his patronising manner with his younger comrades and his repeated threats in the best army slang. To Mr. Jerry Verno fell the part of Bert, and his work all through was excellent. His flirtations and presentations of identity discs accompanied by a "few well chosen words" had the audience in a constant state of laughter. Jack Crichton came along with an amusing Alf—the patent lighter head. Naturally the whole success of the piece depends on these three characters. That they did splendidly was amply testified by the constant applause and the ovation the Company in general received at the final curtain. It was certainly deserved, for the play was carried through in a very sprightly manner, so perhaps a word of praise should be reserved for the stage management. The Better 'Ole will certainly be remembered in Hongkong for some time to come. At any rate it helped to pass at least one hot night quickly.

A BEWILDERING CASE.

INDIAN CONSTABLE CHARGED.

ALLEGED HARBOUR OFFICE THEFT.

Mr. Leo Longinotto yesterday afternoon opened the defence in the case in which an Indian constable is charged with having robbed Revenue Officer John Brown of his pocket-book.

The accused deposed that on the night in question, he was walking eastward by the Harbour Office when he saw a Chinese moving suspiciously in the passage between the two wooden huts on the water front. Walking up to the huts witness waited for the man's return, and when he came out seized him. The Chinese struggled violently and awakened on the electric light. By the Magistrate: The witness recognised the man as the Chinese revenue officer (No. 29) who had given evidence for the prosecution. The struggle started outside the door of the hut but continued into the room. When Mr. Brown got up the Chinese accused him of theft.

By Mr. Longinotto: The witness thought the pocket-book was slipped under his tunic by the Chinese during the struggle. When the Chief Revenue Officer came witness made no attempt to explain to him that he had been wrongly accused, notwithstanding that he had a second certificate for Chinese, because he did not know Mr. Watt understood the language. Addressing the Magistrate, Mr. Longinotto suggested that the person who threw the elastic band from the pocket book out of the hut was the thief. As it was agreed by the witnesses for the prosecution that the accused never left the room from the time he seized, it was quite clear that he could not have been the person who threw the elastic out of the hut.

The Magistrate said that the suggestion was that the accused had entered the hut once and was returning to replace the pocket-book when he was caught.

Mr. Longinotto said that that was very tetchy. Why should he replace the pocket-book? Why should he help him? He submitted that the evidence was insufficient to convict a man with eight years' service and a "very fair" record.

The Magistrate agreed with Mr. Longinotto that the case was the most bewildering one he had had to deal with, and reserved his decision until to-morrow.

ADMIRAL LINE.

NEW STEAMER COMING.

S.S. "SILVER STATE" ARRIVE YOKOHAMA.

Word has been received at the local office of the Admiral Line that the s.s. "Silver State" arrived at Yokohama on the morning of July 21 after making a splendid trip across the Pacific. This is the maiden trip of the vessel and her arrival with a full passenger list and 9,000 tons of cargo for Oriental Ports was received with much satisfaction. Being on schedule, she will arrive here on July 31 leaving for Manila on August 2. Homeward the vessel will sail from this port on August 13.

Under the management of the Admiral Line, the s.s. "China Seas," an 8,250-ton vessel of twelve knots will depart from this port for Trieste and Hamburg. The vessel is classed by Lloyd's as 100-A-1 and is equipped to carry 1st class and steerage passengers. Her schedule calls for departure from Hongkong on August 25.

CRIME MYSTERY.

MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN RICHSA.

AN UNKNOWN ASSAILANT.

A mysterious crime was brought to the notice of the police yesterday by a district watchman who found a Chinese yesterday afternoon unconscious in a richsa in Woosung Street with stab wounds on the face and head, and a broken jaw bone. The injured man was at once removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital where he now lies in a critical condition. Although he recovered consciousness soon after admittance to the hospital, he was unable to speak, and in consequence the police are still baffled as to the cause of the assault or the identity of the assailant. The richsa coolie who has absconded has not yet been found to throw any light on the mystery.

UNLAWFUL CRACKERS.

AMERICAN SAILOR'S ALLEGED ESCAPE.

BOY HAWKER FINED.

An American sailor named Leonard Dexter of the U.S.S. "Hart" was last night arrested by the Wanchai police for disorderly conduct in Spring Garden Lane by throwing broken crackers into the houses. He was allowed personal bail in the sum of $5. When the case was called before Magistrate Orme this morning Dexter failed to appear and his bail was estreated.

In the same connection, a Chinese boy was charged with having sold crackers to Dexter without a licence. The lad said that he did not know it was unlawful to sell crackers. He saw many boys selling the explosives to American sailors, so he bought a couple of packets to retail and make a few cents profit.

The Magistrate imposed a fine of $5 or 14 days' hard labour.

MARINE MISDOINGS.

That his craft was carried there by the current was the excuse put forward at the Marine Court, this morning, by the master of a cargo boat which was charged with having been unlawfully alongside the s.s. "Haimun." The Magistrate (Lieutenant Conway Eke, R.N.R.) pronounced him guilty and imposed a fine of $15.

For unlawfully making fast to the same vessel another defendant was confronted with the alternative of a $25 fine or one month's jail.

Failure to observe the rule of the road was proved against the master of the steam launch "Li On." Evidence was given by Lance Sergeant Carly that the defendant went ahead of a big junk that was tacking across the harbour near Yau-mat, notwithstanding that there was plenty of room astern, and a collision was narrowly avoided. A penalty of $5 was inflicted, the Magistrate directing that the coxswain should be re-examined before his certificate was returned to him.

Two fishermen and a cargo boatman were fined for neglecting to take out licences.

TYPHOON WARNING.

The telegram quoted below was received by the American Consulate General from the Manila Observatory at 10.10 a.m. to-day:

Typhoon in about 121 deg. Long. E. 20 deg. Lat. N. moving W.

A typhoon warning was posted up at the Harbour Office at 10.15 a.m. to-day. It notified the presence of a typhoon in the vicinity of Lat. 20 deg. N. Long. 122 deg. E. moving in a West-North-Westerly direction. Its radius and intensity were stated to be unknown.

SOMEONE LYING.

GREEKS CLAIM WAR PRACTICALLY ENDED.

KEMALISTS STILL CONFIDENT.

ATHENS, July 22.
Military circles hold the opinion that the capture of Eskişehir practically ends the war against the Kemalists. It is reported that the Greeks have captured immense booty including 180 guns. A thousand prisoners were taken. The Kemalists are fleeing in disorder pursued by the Greeks. On the other hand a Constantinople message states that the chief of the Kemal general staff declares that the loss of territory and fortresses is of secondary importance. The army retired to prearranged positions without serious fighting. He is confident of the outcome of the struggle.

"HONG MOH" WRECK.

SOLD BY AUCTION.

CHINESE COMPANY PAYS $1,250.

At their sales rooms this afternoon, Messrs. Hughes and Hough offered for sale by public auction the wreck of the Singapore steamer "Hong Moh" as she now lies on the Boat Rocks near the Lamook Islands outside Swatow.

There was a good number of bidders and the bidding was brisk until the $1,000 mark was reached when many dropped out. The vessel was eventually knocked down for $1,250 to Mr. Woo Wing who purchased on behalf of the Kwong Tak Chong Co.
The "Hong Moh" it will be remembered, struck the Boat Rocks at 7.30 on the night of March 3 last, while on a voyage from Hong Kong to Swatow. The vessel broke in two amidships about 2.30 a.m., on the following day, causing a considerable amount of suction. Her situation was so unfavourable that by 2.30 on the morning of March 5, all her passengers had to abandon her. Her skipper, Captain Holmes, stayed on board until the last moment and then took to the water, but sank within a few yards of safety. The rest of the crew and a good percentage of the passengers were rescued by the "Carlisle," the "Shensi" and native fishing craft, but over 800 cedies perished.

A notice of interest to subscribers to the National Loans of the Third Year of the Republic (1914) and the Fourth Year (1915) appears in our advertisement columns.

A cabaret dinner dansant will be held at the Repulse Bay Hotel to-morrow (Saturday) evening, when the Clarins will present the latest ballet and ball room dances.

TO-DAY'S CABLES.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail)

IRISH PEACE MOVES.

STILL SEEKING BASIS FOR FORMAL CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 21.
A communique states that Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera conferred for an hour today. The basis for a formal conference has not yet been found. Mr. De Valera has arranged to return to Ireland to-morrow and communicate with Mr. Lloyd George again after further discussion with his colleagues.

HOPES AND FEAR.

LONDON, July 22.
While some quarters in Dublin fear that a hitch has occurred in the Irish negotiations, well-informed circles generally are still optimistic, and have no disposition to consider that negotiations have broken off. It is expected that Mr. De Valera will submit the whole case to Dail Eireann which can modify if advisable the pledges entered into before Mr. De Valera's conversations with Mr. Lloyd George. Well-informed circles in London are confident that the Irish delegation will soon return to London.

OPTIMISTIC VIEWS.

LATER.
In explanation of the Irish situation it is pointed out that a very hopeful sign is the continuance of the truce. The Earl of Crewe in the House of Lords yesterday optimistically declared: "If negotiations should prove successful, and at present I am glad to say that they seem charged with hope, it is conceivable that the assembly of Parliament may be necessary in the autumn." He pointed out that Mr. De Valera and his colleagues had been elected to Dail Eireann on the republican ticket and therefore did not possess authority to abate the demand. A prominent Irishman in London last night declared: "We are not less optimistic to-day than we were two days ago."

BISLEY SHOOTING.

NEWCASTLE MAN WINS THE KING'S PRIZE.

LONDON, July 21.
Armourer Sergeant J. Cunningham won the King's Prize at Bisley. He is a Newcastle man.
The score for the Kolapore Cup was as follows:—Motherland, 1,083; Canada, 1014.

A FINE CONTEST.

LATER.
The final for the King's Prize was one of the finest contests ever seen, Cunningham winning with the last shot. The well known Scottish marksman, Captain W. Gray, was second one point below the winner. A Canadian was third. The King telegraphed his congratulations to Cunningham who is a sexagenarian, a Northumbrian publican, and a non-smoker. This is the ninth time he has competed for the King's prize.

FRANCO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

INTELLECTUAL BONDS.

PARIS, July 21.
Dr. Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, was present at a meeting of the French Academy. M. Derogier, Director of the Academy, in a speech of welcome, paid a tribute to America. He spoke of Franco-American friendship and profound intellectual sympathy. Dr. Butler, in returning thanks, invited the Academy to send a representative to America in connection with the third centenary of the birth of Moliere in January. The Academy accepted the invitation.

UPPER SILESIAN PROBLEM.

WIRTH CABINET IN CRITICAL POSITION.

BERLIN, July 21.
A semi-official statement with regard to Upper Silesia declares that Herr Wirth Government is in a very critical position largely owing to the entente continuing the sanctions.

PARIS, July 21.
The Temps says that Britain is anxious for a speedy conference because this is necessary to save the Wirth Cabinet which Britain believes would check any German rising in Upper Silesia. The paper declares this an illusion.

$50,000,000 FRENCH LOAN.

MESSRS. MORGAN ANNOUNCE SUBSCRIPTION LIST CLOSED.

New York, July 21.

SECOND EMPIRE.

WITTY WOMEN.

MEMORIES OF THE PALAIS ROYAL.

Paris in the 'sixties had assuredly an atmosphere of romance, and Mr. Max Pemberton, in his new book "Prince of the Palais Royal" (Cassell, 6s. 6d.), distils it into a series of stories which will add to his reputation and leave the reader with a host of impressions of those hectic days in which Louis Napoleon was preparing his own doom.

Most of the stories are about women, "the women who made us what we were in the great days of the Empire," "that bejewelled company of matchless courtesans which attracted to our city the great of every land, and gave us a reputation for wit and vivacity which other countries envied."

There you have the character of the narrator of the tales, the manager of a famous restaurant disguised as Signy's, in the Palais Royal.

He paints his own portrait as he reveals himself in Mr. Pemberton's ingenious records of adventure, amorous and otherwise. He is a smooth, suave scoundrel who, as he is told bluntly by one who has no reason to fear him "would do anything for a thousand francs."

He is in the pay of the police, who "pump" him about the dinners at his restaurant if they happen to be under suspicion for political or other causes. He receives rewards from the Emperor's own hand and is "ever proud to take from his pocket a cigar-case of gold with the Imperial crown in diamonds upon it." The "proudest moment of his life" is that in which he is presented to their Majesties.

EMPEROR'S WEAKNESS.

Here is a sketch of the royal pair: "Never have I seen her Majesty the Empress look more beautiful than upon this memorable night. Her costume of crimson satin with pearls and diamonds more famous than any in Europe gave emphasis to that dignity of bearing becoming to the people, and few in the great hall could have failed to perceive that here was a great lady born as sure as to the destiny of the throne as any in Europe."

"As for his Majesty, he was looking a little pale, I thought, though he led the dance with his usual vigour, and having opened the ball with the stately Empress, paid afterwards, I thought, an attention to that diverting blonde, Adrienne de Joinville, which seemed to justify much that Leonide had said of her."

For all his sycophancy "Prince" had no great opinion of his Sovereign. He knew that they "consulted astrologers, diviners, and such foolish people," just as the Russian Czar and Empress did. He was aware of the Emperor's weaknesses and ministered to them. He heard all the frequenters of his tables "agreed that the Empress would never be content until we were at war with Germany." Yet he speaks always of the period with regret. He is a true type of it.

Mr. Pemberton has created a genuine product of the Second Empire with unflinching skill.

HOUSEWIVES' STRIKE.

PROTEST AGAINST 8d. A QUART MILK.

To protest against milk being sold at 8d. a quart, several hundred women who are on strike against the local dairymen's association attended an open-air meeting at Deal arranged by the Deal and Walmer Housewives' Union.

One speaker said she knew of acute suffering in many homes in the district on account of the high milk prices. At one home the mother, in addition to a large family, had a blind baby, and all she could afford was a pennyworth of milk per day, to which she added enough water to soak bread for her children. Another mother, with a large young family, could only afford half a pint daily.

BLAZON TYPE NOT NECESSARY.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy needs no glaring headlines to attract the public eye. The simple statement that all chemists sell it is sufficient, as every family knows its value. It has been used for forty years and is just what its name implies. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.
